

NGAONE REFLECTIONS

ZEGU welcomes freshman

ACADEMIC procedures are rarely held in high regards as compared to 'Orientation' – a ceremony, widely regarded as a rite of passage required to enter the hallowed halls of academia.

ZEGU welcomed hundreds of freshman (new students) at the 2023 Orientation exercise being held at the institution's Bindura campus.

Students were informed on the ethos of the institution, resources, educational opportunities available, and the central objective of the University as an academic enterprise, among a host of other important issues.

The University always holds orientation in high regards. This was evidenced by the presence of the Pro-Vice Chancellor Professor Innocent Chirisa and Registrar Mr. Innocent Chinyemba, amongst others.

A new horizon is upon us, as the students exhibited great enthusiasm.

Editorial Comment

COMPLIMENTS of the new season to all our valued stakeholders and the ZEGU family at large! The year 2023 is already upon us and from the look of things it's set to be an exciting year given the developments taking shape at our beloved institution.

Many people have been talking in hushed tones on the university's move to offer online lessons for a few selected programmes; hence, as your ears, eyes and mouthpiece, NGAONE will through this issue, the first of 2023, shed light on developments taking place on the ground.

And it's all good news on the go!

The good news keeps trickling-in. It's only a matter of time before the state-of-the-art new administration block is commissioned and opened for use. How time flies! It's like yesterday when the ground breaking ceremony was held, led by Senior Bishops - with the blessings of ZEGU Chancellor Professor Ezekiel Handinawangu Guti - during a misty cold winter afternoon, at the main campus, in Bindura.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENT

Congratulations

Professor I. Chirisa

The University Council, Senate, Management, Staff and Students would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Professor Innocent Chirisa for being appointed the University's Acting Vice-Chancellor after having served in the capacity of Pro-Vice Chancellor.

Professor Chirisa takes over from Professor Christopher J Chetsanga, who has been reassigned to the position of University Advisor.

An academic par-excellence, Professor Chirisa will undoubtedly steer the ship to greater heights having learnt from the best, and possessing a resume comparable to only a handful in an otherwise competitive academic arena.

ZEGU cherishes the wisdom you possess and with God, on our side, the Vision will be achieved without fail.

Once again, from the ZEGU family and stakeholders alike, CONGRATULATIONS, MAKOROTO, AMHLOPE Professor Chirisa!!!

Striving for excellence

A highly-powered delegation from the Zimbabwe Ezekiel Guti University (ZEGU) convened in Harare for the 2023 Strategic Planning Meeting, as the University moves to increase enrollment levels, and ultimately, consolidate its place amongst globally recognised higher education institutions.

Delegates included respected ZEGU Council members,

Vice Chancellor Professor James Chetsanga, Pro Vice-Chancellor Professor Innocent Chirisa, Registrar Mr. Innocent Chinyemba, top management and officers from the Bindura-based institution. The team was split into 5 groups, tasked to come up with values that would move the institution towards the apex of the country's higher education pyramid and that of the globe.

ZEGU's strategic meeting comes, at a time when the Christian university is on the verge of celebrating a milestone 11th Anniversary, this May. The meeting is penciled to run till the 26th March 2023.

College for Lifelong Learning off the blocks!

THE pioneering class of the Diploma in Social Work, at ZEGU, under the newly introduced College for Life-Long Learning (CLL) has commenced in earnest at the institution's Belvedere campus, in Harare.

Dozens of students who were 'Accepted' for the much sought after programme were ecstatic at the prospect of commencing their studies at the institution.

The buzz created by the Social Work class has awoken the Harare campus, which also opened most of its lecture rooms in the same week, as the remaining Block classes resumed lectures.

Under the CLL, ZEGU has introduced a number of popular Diploma programmes that have been received well such as the Diploma in Project Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation; Diploma in Information Systems; Diploma in Geographic Information Systems and Earth Observation; Diploma in Humanitarian Aid, and Disaster Management, respectively.

Through the CLL, ZEGU has also introduced Certificate programmes, whose beauty is that they can cumulatively lead to Diploma level.

The Diploma in Social Work builds on ZEGU's the 10-year legacy of offering top-level innovative training to social work students.

ZEGU serenades Chipinge, Chiredzi

ZEGU has made significant strides in its quest to open new learning centres in previously marginalised communities after embarking on a successful onsite enrollment outreach in Chipinge and Chiredzi, respectfully.

The onsite enrollment that began in earnest in February, in the capital city's dormitory town, Chitungwiza, has spread to the Eastern Highlands and the Lowveld, with exceptional responses from both communities.

Prospective students, both young and old gave a warm response to the ZEGU onsite teams, as students continue to enroll onsite.

The growing popularity of the higher education institution's College for Lifelong Learning has exceeded expectations.

A breath of fresh air

A breath of fresh air ZEGU students literally took the bull by its horns, as they led from the front during the institution's recent 'Onsite Enrollment' outreach held on the sidelines of the just-ended ZAOGA FiF Waterfalls Provincial Big Sunday, in Southlea Park, Harare South, recently. A number of congregants turned the institution's exhibition stand into a bee-hive as they took turns to make inquiries on ZEGU's programme mix and enrollment. Under the tutelage of their lecturers, students braved the scorching sun and continued about their business, flying the ZEGU flag high.

AUGUST ENROLLMENT IN PROGRESS

7th ZEGU Graduation, loading ...

PREPARATIONS for the 7th edition of the Zimbabwe Ezekiel Guti University (ZEGU) Graduation ceremony penciled for the 19th May 2023 are at an advanced stage, with a reported 600 plus students set to be capped.

The increase in graduates comes on the backdrop of a cocktail of interventions by the university council and management that have ignited a high demand of the product in an otherwise competitive environment.

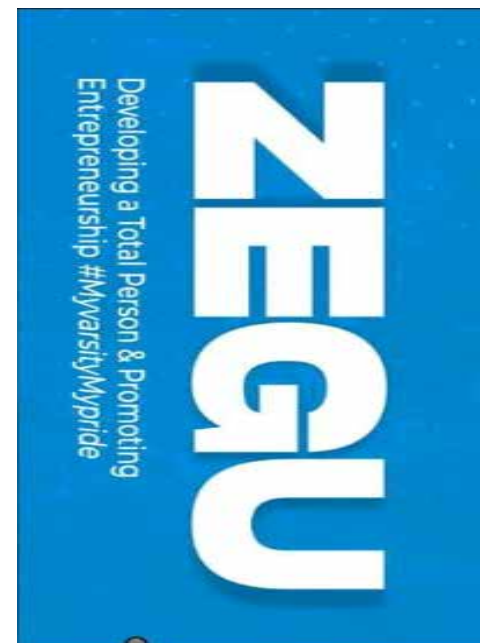

ZEGU has initiated an ongoing restructuring exercise, introduced the ever-growing ZEGU College for Lifelong Learning, spruced up its 'elibrary', and has invested heavily in state-of-the-art infrastructure - in recent months - amongst a host of other student beneficial initiatives.

Positive results have been noticeable, especially after the successful Onsite Enrollment exercise in the farming towns of Chipinge and Chiredzi, respectively.

Coincidentally, ZEGU celebrates its milestone 11th Anniversary in the month of May 2023.

Cultivating spirit-filled leaders

STAYING on course the values laid out by the University's Preamble, the ongoing 2023 Zimbabwe Ezekiel Guti University (ZEGU) Revival lived up to its billing, as the University continues to churn out spirit-filled professionals.

Hundreds of students turned up to a Holy Spirit-charged arena at a service led by Apostle Gudyanga, with some going back to their hostels as born-again children of Christ.

It was a marvel experience, as the students body responded to the word of God and sang songs of praise and worship to the Almighty God.

Approximately 550 students took part in proceedings on the 4th night of the Revival.

DeeperLife1: Pastors flock ZEGU stand

REACHING out to Pastors and church leadership during the annual Deeper Life 1 held at AMFCC proved to be a masterstroke by the university, as the former and latter both gave an appreciation of the institution's programmes and strides made since inception.

Coming on the backdrop of advice from Chancellor Professor Ezekiel Handinawangu Gutu and his esteemed wife, Dr Eunor Gutu, who is also a recent graduate, Pastors flocked the ZEGU exhibition stand to learn more about the programmes on offer and why it is essential for people in their positions to further their education.

Interaction at the ZEGU stand showed that most delegates were raved up about enrolling and studying with the institution. The Pastors were highly encouraged, by the Chancellor, to take up the various courses to enrich their academic skills in order to stay relevant within the society and to know how to manage church business.

Commenting on the need to further education, a Pastor who requested anonymity expressed a desire to further her education, as she was still young.

"Referring to what our mother, Amai Gutu (Dr Eunor Gutu) has done by acquiring a higher learning degree at her age, it's now more like a challenge to the younger generation like myself; hence, I am taking this opportunity enrol for a programme that would edify my position both as a church Pastor and businesswoman," she said.

ZEGU takes pride in its programme catalogue, as it is tailor made not only to nurture professionals par-excellence, but to also groom entrepreneurs amongst its student body.

Delegates hailed the institution's move to introduce Diplomas that would be held online as the initiative is as clear sign of fostering the ease of carrying out tutorials.

"I am pleased and glad that our university is now on the verge of conducting online lessons for a selected few programmes. It's a step in the right direction, as most things, globally, are being held online or as hybrid events.

"So, we are pleased that they have seen it fit to have online lessons, which makes it easy for some of us who are coming outside Harare and Bindura.

"It has to be noted that, as Pastors, we know we have to constantly upgrade our education in order to be informed leaders in society, as most people look up to us for solutions," said another Pastor, who opted to remain anonymous.

ZEGU is currently enrolling for the March & August 2023 Intake.

Apart from the main campus in Bindura and the popular Harare campus, ZEGU also runs a booming learning centre in Chitungwiza.

Meanwhile, a host of new learning centres are on the verge of being launched in Chiredzi and Chipinge, respectively.
